Above are listed the 35 donated, used computers to be shipped from TechLit Africa in the USA to TechLit Africa's project in Mogotio, Kenya. The computers are packed with power cables and Lithium-Ion batteries. The computers are fully functional, but do not have an operating system.

The computers are exclusively for educational purposes. The computers are not for resale.

The computers are ready to be used upon arrival with minimal setup. All the functions of each educational computer have been tested and found working for use in the classroom including, sound, video, drives, memory, processor, DVD player, internet card, and keyboard. The computers have been evaluated for cosmetic defects to ensure that deep scratches, broken latches and missing pieces are not present.

The computers are scheduled to be shipped on July 17 with passenger cargo by Lufthansa Airlines on flight LH 431 from Chicago, USA to Frankfurt, Germany and on flight LH 590 from Frankfurt, Germany to Nairobi, Kenya. TechLit Africa shall be the consignee, and responsible for any demurrage, customs and costs related to clearance from the port.

I hereby certify that TechLit Africa, a non-profit organization incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois in the USA, has collected all 35 of these donated machines, fully tested them, and will use them for educational purposes.
